INTRODUCTION

We are Smart Manufacturing Technology (SMT), a global engineering solutions and services provider dedicated to providing leading engineers with the expertise and tools to deliver innovative powertrain technology. Our Head Office is in Nottingham, UK. SMT maintain registration with the Information Commissioners Office (ICO).

This notice explains how we collect and use personal data in our B2B commercial relationships (sales, licensing, support/services), website and online interactions (including cookies/analytics), events and marketing, supplier/partner management, collaborative research and development, and for visitors to our premises. For employees, contractors and candidates, see our Internal Privacy Notice.

Your privacy, and the security of your information is a responsibility that SMT takes seriously. We understand our responsibility to ensure that any personal data that we collect, store, use or otherwise handle, is processed in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

THE TYPE OF PERSONAL DATA WE COLLECT

We collect only what we need to provide products and services, operate our business, protect our intellectual property, and ensure the safety and security of our premises. This may include:

We need to keep records of engagements with our business and website, as well as basic contact details to inform our interactions with customers, candidates, and service partners.

The personal data that we collect includes

(Note this list is non-exhaustive and is provided only for example)

Business contact details: name, job title, company, work email, phone, postal address.

Account/usage identifiers: usernames/hostnames, IP addresses, support logs, and information generated by our software and systems for licence validation and enforcement.

Marketing & events: communication preferences, registrations (e.g., webinars/events), and responses to surveys/market research.

Online identifiers: device/advertising identifiers and cookies (including Google Analytics cookies).

Site visitors: name, company, contact details, time of entry/exit, vehicle registration, photograph, and CCTV footage. We may also collect information about accessibility needs to ensure your safety.

This list is non-exhaustive, and we may, where deemed necessary and appropriate to our relationship, collect further personal data from you, people you know, or third parties that you identify to us.

HOW WE GET THE PERSONAL DATA AND WHY WE HAVE IT

Most of the personal data that we process is provided to us directly by you via enquiries, trials, licensing, technical support, events and site visits. We also receive personal data indirectly from third parties including:

From your employer (for account administration or introductions).

From referring partners and other third parties who introduce you to us.

From website analytics (see “Cookies & analytics”).

From visitor sign-in systems and CCTV when you attend our premises.

We use this data for the following purposes:

- Fulfilment of services and commercial relationships: processing enquiries and orders, licensing, delivering products and support, administering accounts, and managing projects (including R&D collaborations).
- Protecting and enforcing our rights: licence validation and enforcement; detecting, preventing and stopping copyright infringement.
- Sales, marketing and events: sending product updates, offers or content we believe is relevant; conducting surveys/market research; administering registrations. You can opt out at any time (see “Opting out”).
- Website operations and improvement: understanding how visitors use our site to improve user experience (see “Cookies & analytics”).
- Site security and safety: managing visitor access, maintaining a safe and secure environment, complying with health and safety law, and investigating incidents. Visitor data is used for sign-in, issuing badges, and (where applicable) CCTV monitoring.

THE LAWFUL BASES WE RELY ON FOR PROCESSING PERSONAL DATA ARE:

We rely on one or more of the following lawful bases, as appropriate to each activity:

(a) Your consent.

Only where requested for optional processing (e.g.: certain categories of cookies or specific forms of electronic marketing depending on jurisdiction). You may withdraw consent at any time using the mechanisms described in this notice.

(b) We have a contractual obligation.

To provide products and services, technical support and account management.

(c) We have a legal obligation.

E.g.: health & safety, regulatory requirements.

(d) We have a legitimate interest.

E.g.: B2B relationship management and direct marketing with appropriate balancing tests; product and service security; licence enforcement; internal record-keeping and service improvement; maintaining a safe and secure environment for site visitors.

(e) We have a vital interest.

It is unlikely that SMT will rely on the lawful basis relating to vital interests to process your personal data. SMT only relies on vital interest as a lawful basis where the sharing of information is necessary to protect someone's life, or to avoid significant harm to life, in an emergency.

Public tasks: SMT does not rely on the lawful basis relating to public tasks as we do not process personal data in the exercise of official authority or to perform public interest tasks set out in law.

Special category data: we rely on one or more additional conditions under UK GDPR Article 9 and the Data Protection Act 2018, such as employment, social security and social protection law, occupational health, equality of opportunity monitoring, or establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. For such we limit access and apply additional safeguards.

WHERE NECESSARY AND APPROPRIATE, WE MAY SHARE THIS INFORMATION WITH:

We share data only where necessary and with appropriate safeguards. Typical recipients include:

IT and information security providers: e.g., Microsoft or outsourced IT and security incident response providers.

Sales, service and marketing platforms: Dynamics CRM, Zendesk, Eventbrite, Mailchimp.

Professional and insurance services: consultants and advisors, auditors, certification bodies, and insurers.

Legal and regulatory authorities: law enforcement, tax authorities, courts and regulators when required by law.

Corporate transactions: prospective buyers and their agents in the context of a business sale or reorganisation.

Site security providers: site security providers including CCTV monitoring services.

When sharing your personal data, we may have need to transfer it outside of the country of collection, this may mean transferring the information outside of the UK, or outside of the EEA, this may be to third countries, or to countries with no adequacy agreement in place.

Where a service provider stores or processes data outside the UK or EEA, we ensure appropriate safeguards (e.g., ICO-approved Standard Contractual Clauses/International Data Transfer Agreement and risk assessments) to afford an adequate level of protection.

HOW WE STORE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We apply technical and organisational measures, including strong encryption and secure disposal of data storage media (to recognised industry standards) prior to reuse or recycling. Physical records are securely destroyed.

Physical and electronic records shall be retained for the following periods at the end of which they are securely disposed of, or put beyond use:

Customer records: 10 years after ceasing to be a client/customer.

Financial documents: 6 years from the end of the current financial year (HMRC).

Photographs and filmed footage, including CCTV: typically, 30 days unless required for a criminal investigation.

Visitor sign-in records: typically, no longer than 12 months unless required for investigation or legal reasons.

- All physical records containing personal data are disposed of by secure information disposal methods in line with applicable standards and regulations.
- All data storage media (hard drives / USB drives / disks etc.) are wiped, and factory reset prior to internal reuse of any associated device and are wiped to recognised industry standards, or permanently destroyed, prior to external recycling or sale of any associated device.
- Archived records clearly display the scheduled destruction date.

COOKIES & ANALYTICS

We use Google Analytics to understand website usage (e.g., which pages are of interest, which browsers are widely used).

Google Analytics uses cookies—small text files placed on your device.

- Further information: <https://www.google.com/analytics>
- To opt out of Google Analytics across all websites: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

MARKETING

You can opt out of promotional emails at any time by clicking 'unsubscribe' in the email footer or by contacting privacy@smartmt.com. If an email does not include an unsubscribe link, reply to the message stating your wish to unsubscribe. For cookies, use your browser settings and the Google opt-out tool above.

LINKS TO OTHER WEBSITES

Our website or communications may include links to third-party sites. We do not control those sites and are not responsible for their privacy practices. Check the privacy statement for each site you visit.

DATA SUBJECT RIGHTS

Under data protection law, data subjects have rights including:

Your right of access – You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal data.

Your right to rectification – You have the right to ask us to rectify personal data you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.

Your right to erasure – You have the right to ask us to erase your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to restriction of processing – You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to object to processing – You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to data portability – You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal data you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.

Please note that the rights available to you are subject to the lawful basis for processing your data, for example if you have provided your consent, you cannot object to that consent, however, you do have a right to withdraw consent.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you. Please contact us at privacy@smartmt.com if you wish to exercise your data subject rights.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE

We may update this notice from time to time and will make the most recent version available on our website.
